Phalen Leadership Academies, Partners Host Homeownership Workshops

Thursday, January 22, 2015 5:00pm – 7:30pm

Indianapolis, INDIANA – Owning your own home is easier than you think. The George and Veronica Phalen Leadership Academies (PLA) will host a Community Night Workshop on January 22nd to assist community members with the home-buying process.

PLA invites community members to attend the workshop and receive valuable information on the path to homeownership from a number of local organizations, including KeyBank, Near North Community Development Corporation, Indianapolis Neighborhood Housing Partnership, and Mapleton Fall Creek Community Development Corporation. The event will take place at Phalen Leadership Academies' school, located at 2323 North Illinois Street in Indianapolis, from 5:00pm to 7:30pm.

PLA is an innovative network of charter schools in Indiana that was awarded an unprecedented 10 charters to ultimately serve over 10,000 students annually in grades K-8. The network includes a longer school day and school year; two instructors per classroom; and a blended learning model to rapidly grow the academic skills of its scholars who are drawn primarily from some of the most impoverished neighborhoods of Indianapolis.
