Dear TLJA Family,

Fall has arrived. The season of Fall brings a cool, crisp freshness to the air but also shorter days of sunlight and a reminder that winter is not far behind. Fall is also associated with warm foods and family gatherings. Fall is associated with the beginning of school. As we are now 9 weeks into the start of school, I want to thank each of you for all your support and thank you for making this a great start to the school year. The home and school partnership is so crucial for your student. We need the encouragement you give your child to come to school and do their personal best. If you emphasize with them the importance of school, they too will value their education and want to come to school and take advantage of everything school has to offer. Thank you for being our partners in offering the best education experience for your child. Thank you for all you do!! Dawn Starks, School Leader
